irc://irc.snoonet.org/#modtalk

Know of someone who wants access to r/modtalk? They can message r/modtalk advisory for consideration.

Current minimum is 25,000 subscribers, can be a total of all of the subreddits they mod, and must have been a mod of the same amount of subscribers for a month.

Modtalk rules

- Be courteous. This is a place of friends.
   Even if you disagree with someone,
   respect their opinions.
- Don't post deliberately inflammatory posts.

- Don't leak, and don't engage in witch hunt behavior. We are moderators, we are supposed to be above this
- Failure to follow these rules will result in a warning. Second violation will result in removal from the subreddit.

Tomorrow visiting a subreddit still won't incriminate you.

Hahaha. I think it is fairly likely all of those users browse reddit via TOR, therefore the IP data will be useless. Also likely they purchase gold with bitcoin.

idk at the end of the day people are morons. I wouldn't be at all surprised if they logged on from their home comp.

I'm a huge supporter of bitcoin, detester of governments and even I think these people are idiots.

Here is a list from most stupid to least stupid drugcoiners:

- Trusts an centralized-anonymous-illegal drug market to store large portions of unreturnable cryptocurrency
- Uses a public, distributed ledger as a means with which to transact with above market
  - Without coin tumbling
- Uses a public, centralized US hosted social network to conduct black market narcotics transactions using above public ledgered currency

Bonus points:

- Doesn't use tor for above
- Uses windows for above
- Awareness of the existance of the NSA

Given the the fact that bitcoin does often get political; most of the people doing the above stupid shit not only know about the existance of the NSA, but the Snowden revelations, and maybe even the Mark Klein revelations that preceded them by nearly a decade.

I just don't get it.

at the end of the day people are morons

Is really the only explanation there is.

The reality in the US, is that if you want a forum that can't identify you; you need to make it technologically impossible to identify you. USG will work hard to prevent even that as well. permalink save parent edit disable inbox replies delete reply [-] Zazie_Lavender Genderqueer, MetaHub 2 points 9 days ago The stupidity lies in the fact that apparently these subreddit users think the dark can withstand the light they bring. But just using TOR is usually enough to make revealing identity difficult...assuming you don't transmit your crypto in the clear from your own IP. permalink save parent report give gold reply ▲ [-] goldfish POLITIC ModerationLog RemovedComments 1 point 9 days ago lacktriangle TOR makes it difficult for average actors to sniff your traffic but I wouldn't be so sure that onion routing is some silver bullet against an adversary that has a full birds eye view and enough time and energy to do observational timing correlations and other meta analysis. permalink save parent edit disable inbox replies delete reply [-] BipolarBear0 /r/apple, etc. 3 points 9 days ago Like I said in a modmail when someone linked the DarknetMarkets thread: Don't want to be investigated by the ICE? Don't engage in illegal inter-state drug trafficking like a neckbeard Noriega. permalink save report give gold reply ♠ [-] goldfish POLITIC ModerationLog RemovedComments -2 points 9 days ago Stop victim blaming. permalink save parent edit disable inbox replies delete reply [-] BipolarBear0 /r/apple, etc. 6 points 9 days ago I can't tell if this is a joke. permalink save parent report give gold reply ♠ [-] go1dfish POLITIC ModerationLog RemovedComments 0 points 9 days ago Non-violent drug trade is a victimless crime. permalink save parent edit disable inbox replies delete reply ♠ [-] BipolarBear0 /r/apple, etc. 2 points 9 days ago Engaging in illegal inter-state drug trafficking is a federal crime that tends to lead to investigation by federal inter-state customs agencies. Throughout this thread you've asked if visiting a subreddit constitutes incrimination, compared yourself to a 1960s civil rights activist, and justified illegal drug trafficking. I used to think you were decently sane. Now, I'm not so sure. permalink save parent report give gold reply ♠ [-] goldfish POLITIC ModerationLog RemovedComments 0 points 9 days ago* Where have I compared myself to a civil rights activist? I pointed out how FBI attempted to destroy one with surveillance.

That's not trying to compare, that's trying to inform.

I'm not stupid enough to do something 'bad' in full view of a man with a gun who looks over my shoulder.

That's what the Internet represents now and it's what chills activity in exactly the manner /u/Guygan exemplifies.

In the comment where you talked about how you thought visiting a subreddit made you Martin Luther King, Jr.

Hard truth: You're not Martin Luther King, Jr., and the FBI will literally never care about you. You're just a sort of crazy conspiracy theorist on the internet.

You should work on your reading comprehension.

It's a useful skill for mods.
